NO REMORSE SO NO MERCY

EVIL: Tracey Connelly and boyfriend Steven Barker

PROTEST: Mandy Francis, right, and Stacey Crisp are planning to hold two demonstrations in a bid to halt an appeal by the mother of Baby P (photo: HAR0584578)

By LOUISE SASSOON, News Editor
sassoon@hertessexnews.co.uk

A MOTHER and daughter from Harlow are hoping to thwart a legal appeal by the jailed mum of tragic tot Baby Peter.

Stacey Crisp (22), of Milwards, and Mandy Francis (52) will stage two protests in response to reports that Tracey Connelly is preparing to challenge her indeterminate sentence.

The 28-year-old, whose anonymity was lifted this week after a court order preventing her identification expired, was sentenced to a minimum five years after admitting causing or allowing Peter's death at her home in north London in 2007.

If she is successful in her request for an appeal, lawyers will argue she should not have been given an indeterminate sentence which will keep her behind bars indefinitely if it is deemed she still poses a danger.

But this week Mrs Francis told the Star: "We want to stop her appeal for a reduction in sentence because nobody has shown any remorse over the death of that child at all.

"The thought of her possibly being out in a couple of years, walking the streets and being near children, sickens me.

"Hopefully she will think twice about her appeal and decide that she will do her time. News of what we do always gets back to her in prison."

Mrs Francis and her daughter made national headlines when they organised a successful 500-strong demonstration in central London in December to demand the sacking of the social workers who failed to spot Peter's abuse.

The 17-month-old died after suffering more than 50 injuries including a broken back.

Robert gets a kick from teaching trip

TEACHING may not be everybody's idea of fun but for Harlow Parliamentary hopeful Robert Halfon the experience has been life-changing.

Mr Halfon has just returned from a trip to Rwanda where he has been putting his skills to the test giving English lessons to school teachers.

It was his second visit to the African country which was the scene of mass genocide in 1994 during which more than one million people died in 100 days.

His teaching day began at 7.30am. "Whilst the teachers were passionate and enthusiastic to learn English, many of them were incredibly hungry," he said this week.

"They were given no food or drink by the school because they couldn't afford the costs. We all brought biscuits and bananas to give the student teachers some sustenance as they sat through our lessons.

"As I gave the biscuits out some students said 'God bless you'. Far from making me feel good, I felt uncomfortable that the simple act of buying and giving out some biscuits had elicited such a reaction. I felt it was undeserved.

"The act of giving for me was too easy, the receivers so grateful for something that had required little effort on my part other than buying the biscuits.

"I should add that none of these students were malnourished or starving in the true sense of the word. They were just so hungry from having travelled to the school in the early hours and not eating until the evening. "But this was the only sombre note in my class. There were so many wonderful moments that made the teaching and my visit feel fulfilling and rewarding."

Part of Mr Halfon's lessons were dedicated to Beatles love songs and while out there he had the chance to meet the Rwandan president, Paul Kagame, to discuss the teaching project.

But he said the best moment of the visit was giving out football kits donated by Harlow-based Langley Rangers.

"Rwanda is football crazy and all my class immediately put all the shirts on and refused to do any more work for the rest of the day," he said.

"I was privileged to have visited this special place for a second time. I hope I will be lucky enough to have another opportunity."

Ex-chairman's gift to charity

A CHARITY which helps children affected by crime has been given £5,000 by former Harlow Council chairman Tony Hall.

Most of the money came from collections and fundraising events held during his year in office, but almost £400 was contributed by friends and family of Mr and Mrs Hall after they asked for donations rather than gifts to celebrate their wedding.

"Child Victims of Crime is a charity very close to my heart so I am delighted that I've managed to raise £5,000 for them," he said. "It carries out some sterling work and this money will help it continue to make a difference to children's lives in the area."

The mane man

THE new president of Harlow Lions Club has made it his personal mission to recruit more members during his year in office. Dennis Ayres made the vow as he took over the presidency and said he hoped some of the club's traditional activities such as the Victorian Fair might be reinstated.

Meetings are held on the first Thursday of each month at The Crown pub in Market Street, Old Harlow. Anyone interested in joining should call Mr Ayres on 0845 833 5742 or e-mail dennisayres@hotmail.co.uk.

Coffee appeal

MACMILLAN staff and volunteers have got the feelgood factor as they prepare to host the World's Biggest Coffee Morning to raise cash for the cause next month.

And they want Harlow residents to join in the fun by hosting their own fundraising events on Friday, September 25.

Last year two million people around the country took part, raising £7.5m which the charity used to offer practical, medical, emotional and financial support to those affected by cancer. Pearson Education in Harlow has registered to take part again this year after last year raising more than £600.

For information on how to hold your own coffee morning, log on to the website at www.macmillan.org.uk/coffee or call the Macmillan hotline on 0845 602 1246.

Time for tea

THE Harlow branch of the RAF Association will be raising funds for its Wings Appeal when it holds a Brew For A Few tea morning next Saturday. There will also be stalls and a tombola.

The fundraiser takes place from 11am-2.30pm at the Livingstone Club Room in Potter Street.

Lubbock dad meets police chiefs

POLICE chiefs met with Terry Lubbock this week to assure him that improvements have been made to the protection of crime scenes following a damning report into the handling of his son Stuart's death.

Divisional commander Tim Stokes and Chief Superintendent Gareth Wilson arranged the meeting days after Mr Lubbock asked Her Majesty's Inspectorate of Constabulary to investigate the way the case was dealt with.

Stuart died after being found floating in the swimming pool at TV entertainer Michael Barrymore's home in Roydon eight years ago.

Five months ago the Independent Police Complaints Commission found flaws in the initial police investigation and revealed two potentially vital pieces of evidence – a pool thermometer and a door handle – had gone missing from the scene.

It also found blood on robes and towels was not promptly investigated and the scene not properly secured.

Speaking after the meeting with Mr Lubbock, a police spokeswoman said: "We discussed the improvements which have been made regarding crime scene management and reiterated those investigating the death of Stuart are committed to finding who is responsible.

"Both Mr Wilson and Mr Stokes found the meeting to have been very productive."

Mr Lubbock said he is still waiting for a response from HMIC over whether it will take up the case.

He maintains there was a police cover up and said he will continue to seek answers about why the initial investigation was flawed.

No remorse so no mercy

Peter's real father to have a holiday through their charity, the ABC Foundation, which seeks to support families affected by child abuse.

Mrs Francis said the response to the proposed demonstrations had been good. "We already have about 200 people coming along to the first protest and hope to get a few more joining in over the next few days."

Connelly's boyfriend Steven Barker (33) and his brother Jason Owen, who was lodging with the couple at the time, also had their identities revealed this week and are also seeking to appeal against their sentences for causing or allowing Peter's death.

Anyone wanting to join the marches, which will take place outside Holloway Prison in London next Saturday and Low Newton Prison near Durham, where Connelly is now held, next month can email Mrs Francis at francisfamilyuk@yahoo.co.uk.

Yobs smashed memorial benches and wooden crosses before piling them in a heap and setting it alight. They also trashed graves during the wrecking spree.

Tina Griffin, whose son Nico's grave was one of those damaged, said: "Words cannot describe how I feel about the people that did it. They just have no respect, it's disgusting."

Three benches, which cost families just under £1,000 each to buy and place at the site, were torched, along with seven crosses. Items were also stolen from graves.

Crematorium staff reported the arson to police last Wednesday, the morning after the incident is thought to have taken place. But they have been criticised for failing to contact relatives straight away to tell them what had happened.

Mrs Griffin (55), of Copshall Close, Harlow, said: "I found out what had happened when I went down on Wednesday night and I then told the other people who were affected. It's not good enough, everybody is distraught.

"There needs to be CCTV installed or something. The police haven't been patrolling the site as frequently as they should and I haven't had a response from the neighbourhood officer about this incident at all.

"This isn't the first time graves have been vandalised. How many more times have we got to go to our loved ones' graves to find a scene of devastation? It can't go on like this."

Tony Hall, chairman of Harlow Council's environment and community committee, described the vandalism as appalling but said staff had done everything they could to inform the families and reassured those affected that the benches would be replaced at no cost to them.

"The issue of installing CCTV has been considered by the council," he added. "However, as the grounds of the cemetery and crematorium cover such a wide area it would prove too costly."

A spokesman for Essex Police said officers had stepped up patrols at the site in response to the incident.

Anyone with information about the vandalism should call police on 0300 333 4444.

Highway robbery

A WOMAN from Harlow was robbed of her handbag, cash and jewellery when she stopped to play the role of good Samaritan.

The 46-year-old was driving in Epping shortly before midnight on Monday when she saw a young woman, who appeared to be pregnant, standing by a car.

She stopped to see if she could assist the woman when a man appeared. He threatened her and forced her to hand over her handbag and to remove a diamond ring, earrings and her watch.

Spare time to volunteer and help the environment

GOING green has never been more popular. We are all becoming more aware than ever of the effects our actions have on the environment and most of us are working hard to try to reverse these problems.

But is a little bit of composting and the occasional trip to the bottle bank really the best we can do? How about taking environmental consciousness one step further by joining a volunteer programme?

If you're looking for a chance to get active, improve your fitness and wellbeing, benefit your local environment and learn traditional skills, then the UK's leading green volunteering charity would love to hear from you!

Founded in 1959, BTCV (British Trust for Conservation Volunteers) has a successful history of environmental conservation volunteering throughout the UK and around the world. The charity offers free sessions of practical conservation activity, with an opportunity to work out in the great outdoors and with an experienced leader.

We all know we should try to be healthier and fitter. We are increasingly aware of the importance of our natural resources and environment and the BTCV Green Gym® ticks all the boxes!

HELPING HANDS: BTCV volunteer officer Jess Kandola at work on a typical BTCV practical environmental volunteering project

Experienced leaders guide you through a range of practical projects, giving you the opportunity to tackle physical jobs in the outdoors – improving your strength and stamina, boosting your practical skills and confidence and benefiting your local green spaces.

BTCV boasts the world's largest team of green volunteers and operates locally, throughout the UK and across 26 countries. Throughout the year the charity supports 300,000 green volunteers taking hands-on action to improve their urban and rural surroundings. It makes a significant impact on the UK and international environment, looking after more than 50,000 places.

The charity's slogan – 'Inspiring people, improving places' – reflects its aim to create better local environments where people from all cultures feel valued, included and involved.

Sir David Attenborough, vice-president of the charity, says: "Volunteering with BTCV brings together people from all walks of life and gives them a common purpose – to learn about, to understand and become part of the natural world."

"They volunteer not just because they want to bring about change to their local environment but because it's fun. It gets you outdoors, it makes you fit and you're learning something new all the time. BTCV is working hard to make that happen."

From helping to maintain footpaths, building a dry stone wall, to creating a wildlife area in your local school or planting a new hedge row, you can really make a difference by volunteering with BTCV and it's really easy to get involved.

This year marks the 50th anniversary of BTCV. Why not get involved and help towards the next 50 years and beyond.

School move a threat to town green space

SIR, Jim Rogers rightly reminds us of the sad history of the removal of Passmores School to a new site at Brays Grove (Letters, July 30). The attitude of those responsible for education in the town appears to be that spending money on buildings is the answer to what are really deep seated problems in the school system. Those making the decisions on these matters are not rooted in the local community; most do not even live in Harlow. They seem to lack the most basic concerns as to what will be the effect on the local community of the changes and there has been little community input in any consultation. Some of us are concerned that the whole move is not being made on the grounds of educational improvement but on much more economic asset stripping criteria.

What will replace Passmores School? I hear of two possibilities: the first is further housebuilding as on the Sportcentre site and the other is future expansion of the college. Evidence of the latter was strengthened this week when the college, which appears to have bought much of the green space between the town centre and Passmores, tried to put up a fence on public land around their property, appearing to be unaware as to where their land ended. The suspicion is that they have designs on the school site. Either option would ruin the southern green corridor into the town centre, ruining the aspect from the Water Gardens and adversely affecting the residents of the Passmores area. Would our representatives please get assurances from the county council and from the college that they are unwilling to sell their land for any building development but rather to guarantee its future as green space?

Change for the worse

SIR, When the Conservatives took control of Harlow Council they stated they would bring change. Well as far as The Stow area of Mark Hall is concerned, they certainly have.

The bushes and planting outside the bakers has been replaced by three foot high weeds, other raised planters are broken with bricks scattered, most of the seating benches are missing or broken and the safety rail and road sign opposite Nuffield House are also missing.

At the risk of sounding like Victor Meldrew the whole area is looking sad and in need of some urgent action. I wonder what happened, as the change is certainly not for the better.

Tom Farr
Orchard Croft, Harlow

Another stealth tax

SIR, I read Harlow Council's advert in the Star on the issue of wheeled bins and recycling. As much as I feel the bins are a benefit to a degree I, like many others I have spoken to on this point, feel that we should not foot the bill for schemes the council invents because they need to reach a target and so not get fined.

I know full well they will only hit us with their fines for their failures so it seems we will have another stealth tax hitting us all very soon.

After watching a programme on the Discovery Channel about worldwide fraud which gave an in-depth explanation on how foreign countries get our private details to commit fraud and other frightening schemes to trap the vulnerable, I learned a staggering 80 per cent of so-called recyclable rubbish from England is sent to foreign countries. Therefore, only 20 per cent may possibly get recycled.

S. Sadler
Mallows Green, Harlow

Do the right thing and resign now, councillor

SIR, I would like to point out the facts to Lorna Spenceley who seems to be implying that I was undertaking duties as a Harlow councillor whilst living in the Isle of Man (Star, August 6). As she knows, this is completely untrue.

On making the decision to move to the Isle of Man, I recognised that it would be impossible for me to represent my constituents and, therefore, in January 2007 I made the difficult decision to tender my resignation. I also wrote to the residents of Church Langley to explain my decision and notify them of my impending departure.

Due to the nearness of my departure from the UK to the next normal election it was not necessary for a by-election to be called but this does not mean that I had not resigned my position as councillor for Church Langley. In fact, so public was my departure that at my last full council meeting a presentation was made to me by the then Labour council chairman.

I would suggest to Mrs Spenceley that she does the decent thing, as I did, and resigns. I am aware that she has a long and chequered political history in Harlow and perhaps she is having difficulties coming to terms with leaving such a great town. However, this is about her Staple Ty constituents who deserve a councillor who, at the very least, lives in the town.

Perhaps if she had done the right thing she would not have found herself in the sorry position of tweeting about a piano whilst Berecroft burned.

Samantha Warren
Isle of Man

SIR, I have been one of councillor Lorna Spenceley's greatest critics, ever since 2003 when, as joint leader of the council, she failed in her duty to report a fellow Liberal Democrat councillor who had been caught accessing forbidden material via his council laptop. I criticised her then for putting political advantage before her duty to Harlow's public and she has never forgiven me. Now she has moved 60 miles to Ely, at a time when she knows perfectly well her seat in Staple Ty and her councillor's allowance will remain uncontested.

To make her seat vulnerable to a by-election she has to either fail to attend a full council meeting for six consecutive months or reach a point where there is less than six months before she is due for re-election. We reach that six-month deadline this November so she knows she now need have nothing further to do with her ward or the council.

She tries to defend her position by referring to Conservative councillor Sam Warren's departure from the council in 2007. Once again she is economical with the truth because Sam Warren resigned on February 26 before she left for the Isle of Man and there was an election on May 3 – 65 days later.

Councillor Millington, Harlow's Liberal Democrat leader, says she will fulfil her role from Ely and attend council meetings. That remains to be seen, but I see past behaviour repeated here and I also see Staple Ty residents being short-changed.

I challenge her and her Liberal Democrat colleagues to call time on this abuse. She should follow Sam Warren's example and resign so a by-election can be called and Staple Ty can elect a councillor who will properly perform their function for the next nine months.

Councillor Tony Hall
Kingsdon Lane, Harlow

SIR, As a local councillor, can I express my disappointment in the action of Tory councillor Lee Dangerfield whose attempt to use a tragic news story to hoodwinked into believing we are doing good for our community. What about the poor countries that are forced to take our rubbish because councils do not follow through with what they preach?

Why cannot Harlow Council fund its own recycling warehouses, thus creating worthwhile jobs for Harlow residents and Harlow town itself.

Some of the recycling problems can also be helped by the local supermarkets and their over packaging.

S. Sadler
Mallows Green, Harlow

Hands off the trees

SIR, Why are the people in this town so keen to cut down trees?

make childish and silly comment about another councillor was unworthy.

One has to ask the question how low will the Tories in Harlow go to try and score worthless points over others? Why can't they stick to the real issues that affect us all?

The Tory council have spent in excess of £30,000 on buying expensive car parking ticket machines. These machines aren't welcomed and not needed. It will take the council at least two years just to pay back the £30,000. At the same time, people are driving past these vital centres until they reach Tesco.

The council is wasting money on wheelie bins. They just don't understand that Harlow streets and estates aren't designed for them which means some areas will have no choice but to leave them by the front door.

It also appears to have lost all common sense and will now lose us the option of a new town centre development. Why haven't they spoken to the current owners of property within the centre?

The Labour group over the past few years made a decision not to comment about private issues of councillors that may affect their public life. We never made comment about the national scandal of the local Tory councillor and his issues with friends on the internet that appeared in The Sun newspaper. We never made comment about the former Tory councillor from Staple Ty who is now in prison.

I accept that party leaflets are often over the top but to use an event such as a fire that has affected people in our own community will make all councillors look silly and stupid. This is a new low for Harlow. If this is the way the Tories run a town then we all need to make sure they don't run the country.

Councillor Tony Durcan
Rundells, Harlow

SIR, As one of the two Liberal Democrat councillors for Staple Ty ward, I feel I must voice my disgust at the way Lee Dangerfield has tried to use the dreadful fire in Berecroft for political and personal gain or, to use his words, as a political "stunt".

He states he was hoping to work with us, yet he has not even tried to make any contact with myself or Councillor Spenceley. We did not get invited to the meeting with residents as their ward councillors and when I was on the estate he chose to totally ignore me. Does this sound like someone wanting to work together?

Of course the point he is trying to make is that Councillor Spenceley, who moved the week before, cannot support her constituents but what he fails to mention is that she will still spend a large part of the time in Harlow. I do not remember him saying the same about the ex-Conservative councillor, who still claimed his expenses while in prison for six months or the Conservative councillor who moved to the Isle of Man and also carried on claiming her expenses. I think it is called double standards.

If he is so concerned that the residents of Staple Ty are being short-changed, maybe he would like to explain why he has not bothered to turn up to any local NAP meetings since last year or why he did not attend any of the two ward inspections a couple of weeks ago. And why he has also cancelled his councillor surgeries at Staple Ty shopping centre and Barley Croft?

Finally, why, while claiming an allowance for his home phone did he still run up a mobile phone bill at our expense of over £500, more than any other councillor including the leader?

Councillor John Strachan
The Briars, Harlow

The same fate awaited a beautiful deep red magnolia at the bottom of Old Harlow High Street and then a copper beech in Churchgate Street

The latest casualty is a very mature black poplar on Sheering Road. It was there long before Fitzwilliams Court was built and I now wonder if the same fate awaits the other surviving poplar. If trees are diseased and a danger, it can't be helped but it is criminal to cut down healthy trees. If you don't like trees, don't buy a house with trees in the garden.

Please, residents of Harlow, think again before felling trees. They are the lungs of the planet and without them we wouldn't last long.

Car snatcher ignored mum's baby screams

A MOTHER who handed over her car keys at knifepoint and watched in horror as the vehicle was driven off with her baby still strapped in the back has hit out at the sentence handed to the culprit.

Keiran Armstrong (30) was jailed for 21 months on Friday for aggravated vehicle taking and two assaults, one of them on police officers.

But speaking after the hearing, victim Michelle Wright (31) said the punishment was not severe enough. "I am very disappointed about the outcome," she said. "I went through a lot of trauma only for him to get that."

She had told the jury that she had been unloading shopping from the car at her home in Joyner's Field, Harlow, on February 11 when a man brandishing a knife demanded the keys.

Mrs Wright, a police support worker, told the court she screamed that her baby son was still in the vehicle but Armstrong ignored her pleas and drove off.

There then followed a police chase which ended when Armstrong abandoned the car near a caravan site and ran off, leaving the baby, which by then was crying, still strapped in his seat.

Giving evidence, Mrs Wright wept as she told jurors of the incident and recalled how she threw the keys at the man after she saw the knife.

"He went toward the car door and I started shouting at him 'Please, my son is in the car. Look behind you, my son is still in the car' but he completely ignored me," she said.

"He tried to get the keys into the ignition, seemed to fumble around and drove off with the boot open. I tried to flag down a black Volvo but I presume I frightened the driver."

"Neighbours came out and one man drove off looking for my car. I phoned 999 and told police but in the confusion I cut it off."

"They called me back to say police were following the car and then my son was safe. They returned him to me; he was missing for 10-15 minutes."

The judge directed the jury to clear Armstrong, of no fixed abode, of a charge of robbery because of insufficient evidence of intent to permanently deprive Mrs Wright of the keys.

However, Armstrong admitted aggravated vehicle taking, driving while disqualified and two assaults.

Passing sentence, judge David Turner said: "A stranger with a knife driving off with an eight-month-old baby in the back doesn't bear thinking about and has caused trauma and distress to Mrs Wright's family. A more distressing car-taking one couldn't imagine."

"Even if you didn't know the baby was in the back you should have heard his mother's pleas."

It's a catastrophe . . .

THE cat population in Harlow is at record levels and out of control, animal welfare chiefs warned this week.

The Stort Valley branch of the RSPCA and Cats Protection have been inundated with people bringing in cats which have been found abandoned or handed in by owners who say they cannot cope.

The situation is now so serious that Harlow Council is being urged to change its policies to try and address the problem.

RSPCA Stort Valley branch spokeswoman Marion Wellsman said: "This year the cat population is out of control and both ourselves and Cats Protection are now unable to cope.

"We have been inundated with calls from Harlow residents who have stray cats having kittens in their garden sheds plus irresponsible people who continually let their cats have kittens.

"As we are full to bursting and have kittens that we have been unable to home we cannot help as soon as they would like.

"This year is the worst it has been and I am speaking to councillors about this because I think Harlow Council can do more with its tenancy agreements. I think it would be nice if they could put that cats should be neutered. The only way we are going to stop this is by addressing the issue."

Nearly 20 cats and kittens are currently at the Stort Valley branch ready for re-homing, but Mrs Wellsman said scores more are being turned away.

She also warned that while no cat is put to sleep, that might have to change for older cats if the current situation continues.

Harlow councillor Lee Dangerfield said he would be meeting with Mrs Wellsman to discuss the problem, adding: "Her concerns are something I will take up to see if the council can help in any way."

Anyone who would like to re-home a cat or kitten should call RSPCA Stort Valley branch secretary Marie Shaw on (01279) 444542.

Back to School Swapsies helping children in Africa

GOING back to school with new stationery seems to be compulsory for kids, not least because most love stationery and want to stand out from the crowd. The list can seem endless - pencil case, pens, highlighters, stapler, calculator, ruler, notebooks, paper, files and so on. And then there's different sizes, styles and colours to choose.

But have you ever wondered when you're buying new pens and pencils case for your children what happens to all those perfectly good unwanted ones? For most families they simply end up in a cupboard or drawer taking up valuable space or, even worse, they're thrown away.

But now Staples has come up with a solution. It has joined forces with the charity READ International to launch Back to School Swapsies, major initiative that aims to ship the UK's unwanted pencil cases and pens - as long as they are in working order - to schoolchildren in Tanzania and Uganda.

All you have to do is drop the pens and pencil cases off at your local Staples store and Staples will give you a £1 voucher to spend on anything from a scientific calculator to that all-important maths set. READ International will then collect, sort and ship the stationery to Africa.

This latest initiative builds on the work of the charity, which has a 500-strong student volunteer network, responsible for redistributing disused text books from the UK to Africa. Since its launch in 2003 it has shipped nearly half a million books.

READ Director Rob Wilson said: "This is a fantastic idea which we hope will capture the imagination of young people and get them thinking about recycling, their own environment and helping others.

"I have seen first-hand the huge demand for basic stationery like pens and pencils in east African schools and know that hundreds of thousands of school children in Tanzania and Uganda will benefit from this initiative."

Staples has also agreed to donate new pens and pencil cases to the charity. They will be shipped to Africa later this year, together with the latest batch of text books. Schoolchildren in Tanzania and Uganda follow a syllabus almost identical to the UK but, as one of the poorest regions in the world, teachers often lack the resources needed to teach.

White sacks are axed as council gets ready to wheel out bins

WHITE recycling bags have been binned by Harlow Council as it looks to wind down the kerbside collection service ready for the introduction of wheelie bins next month.

Residents have used the sacks to store their recyclable waste for collection for years.

But they have now been withdrawn as the authority prepares for the start of the new waste collection arrangements due to be rolled out in September.

Black bags will also be banned as part of the changeover which will see a majority of the town's households given wheeled bins to store rubbish and recyclables. These will be picked up on alternate weeks. There will also be a food waste caddy for refuse which will be collected weekly.

The existing box scheme will continue for some properties which cannot accommodate wheelie bins and, whichever system residents are on, untied non-black plastic sacks can be used for extra recycling.

Arson accused held in custody

THE man accused of starting a fire which ripped through a Harlow estate appeared in handcuffs at Chelmsford Crown Court on Monday.

Yuen Chow (29), of Berecroft, Harlow, is charged with arson recklessly endangering life, violent behaviour at Harlow police station and two offences of criminal damage.

He was brought into court handcuffed to a security officer and remained that way throughout the brief hearing. He has been remanded in custody for a plea and case management hearing which is scheduled to take place on October 19.

Two homes were destroyed and six damaged when flames spread through a row of terraced homes at Berecroft.

Up to 40 residents had to be evacuated while five fire crews spent six hours putting out the blaze.

Comments sought on town centre regeneration plans

RESIDENTS are being urged to register their opinions on plans for the regeneration of Harlow town centre before next week's deadline.

The development team behind the proposed multi-million pound project is asking for comments by next Friday.

Housing, leisure facilities, new shops and restaurants have all been pencilled in for inclusion in the scheme. There are also proposals for a new hotel, theatre and bus station.

It is hoped the first phase will be complete by 2013.

The Star revealed the plans could be in trouble after two major landowners in the town said they would not sell up to developers.

Threat to kids' support service

Teams battle it out in a game of 'horse' play

THE competition was keen when teams of horseshoe throwers celebrated 30 years of scoring ringers by taking part in a special knockout contest in the grounds of Moot House on Sunday.

Ten teams of players representing local pubs and clubs competed in the event in which points go to the player whose horseshoe is on, or closest to, the metal pin.

Des Hall, of Westfield, was crowned singles champion, winning the coveted Jim McCann Trophy named after a popular player who died some years ago. In the pairs matches The Golden Swift pub, in Harberts Road, took the honours.

Peter Kinsella, president of the league which he started in 1979, said: "It grew out of something which was just a bit of fun with a few friends on a playing field in Fold Croft. It took off very quickly and spread to pubs and the many company social clubs in the area at that time."

"It's great that it is still going strong after so long and particularly great to see a lot of young enthusiasts keen to keep it alive."

HUNDREDS of youngsters affected by their parents' drink and drug problems could be lost in the system if a Harlow charity is forced to axe one of its services.

The children's arm of the West Essex Alcohol and Drug Service, based in The Stow, has had its £39,000 budget slashed to just £9,000.

It will have to lay off two members of staff while the children and family support services could close for good.

Last year more than 200 youngsters received support and counselling for psychological, emotional and mental health problems, but there is an ever-growing demand as it is the only one of its kind in the county.

The charity now fears a generation of young people could be at risk if more funding is not found.

ADAS chief executive Philomena Lawrence said: "It is catastrophic. ADAS was one of the first organisations in the UK to set up a designated children's service in 1997 as it recognised that children are the hidden sufferers affected by parental drug and alcohol abuse and domestic violence.

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoon@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"The impact that this abuse has upon a child's emotional well-being and general psychological development is substantial and, sadly, many children all too often grow up and acquire drug or alcohol problems and mental ill health themselves".

The Harlow Assessment and Child Protection Team recently said ADAS offers an essential service.

Therapists work with the youngsters using play as a way of getting them to address emotional problems and express their feelings. The service also works closely with schools and families as well as other partners.

Mrs Lawrence and her team are now in the process of applying to other bodies to try to get additional funding beyond September 30.

A spokeswoman for Essex County Council said the situation was unfortunate but the tender for funding was five times oversubscribed.

Anyone who would like to help the charity by donating cash or providing a grant should call Mrs Lawrence at ADAS on (01279) 641347.

YOU might imagine that putting out a fire is the same wherever it's burning.

But that couldn't be further from the truth, according to the crew members who make up the dedicated airport fire service in Stansted.

Harlow man John Farrow is Stansted Airport's fire manager. He runs the airport's fire brigade and is employed directly by BAA, the owner of the Essex hub.

In fact, all of the firefighters based on the runway-side station are employed by BAA and they are backed-up, in case of emergency, by the Essex Fire Service.

This year alone, the crew has seen improvements totalling £1million to their station and equipment in a bid to make sure they are completely up-to-date and ready for any incident that may arise.

John (44), said: "I've been the airport fire manager here since September 2008 and was a station manager before that.

"I first started as a fireman in 1987. I didn't really want to be one; I wanted to be a footballer, but I got a knee injury which stopped that.

"After the injury, I applied for a job in the local paper and got into it that way and have been there ever since.

"The main difference between us and other crews is that we don't just do the domestic side of things like traffic collisions, office fires etc.

"We do those things too, covering the terminal, business buildings and roads on the airport site, as well as providing fire prevention advice, but we also handle the specialist side of things with the aircraft firefighting."

The 78-strong crew at Stansted work in four different watches with approximately 15 crew on each watch.

EMERGENCY: Stansted crew practice their drills. Left, John Farrow

The minimum number of people on duty at any one time is strictly limited to a minimum of 14 to ensure five appliances can be manned in the case of emergency.

Even their appliances are specially adapted to the airport's fire needs with both foam and water carried on them at all times and extra water capacity in the tanks they carry too.

As part of their special duties, John says the crew spent a lot more time on training than an ordinary firefighter.

He said: "We've got two mock-up aircraft on the site – a 767 and a 737 – to help us train and they allow us to practice 30 different scenarios.

"Because we aren't called out as often as other crews, we spend a lot more time training and ensuring we are completely prepared for any eventuality.

"As part of that, we also take part in a biannual emergency exercise, which tests the whole airport on its preparedness if something were to go wrong."

More than 20 of the crew at the airport are also trained as emergency medical technicians, a far higher average than the service's first aid requirement.

The Stansted crew were called to 690 incidents last year, tackling anything from a plane which has indicated it might be in trouble before landing to a full-scale emergency crash landing.

But John says he is proud of the resolution to each and every call they answer.

"An airport is like a little city, so not only do we look after the airfield, but the domestic side too. It's like a little personal fire service."

New-look PO given stamp of approval by customers

POST Office customers can now shop in comfort following a major refurbishment of the Harlow town centre branch.

The Stone Cross premises have been redesigned to create a more user-friendly layout which includes modern décor and a dedicated area for people wanting to find out more about the range of financial services available.

A ticket system is also being operated to allow customers the chance to sit down while a cashier desk becomes available. Work on the project started in May as part of a £40m investment package being spent on Post Offices nationwide.

Branch manager Sam McCann said: "We have gone from an old style Post Office building to a very modern office which is open plan. It's amazing the difference the transformation has made; it's much bigger and brighter."

"Customers are coming in and they can't believe it's the right place. A couple of customers have been so surprised they even forgot what they'd come in for!"

"They also really like the ticket and seating system and the comfy chairs that have been provided for them while they wait."

"We have two financial services areas including one in a private room where people can find out information in privacy away from the public."

Keep-fit guru David lands a starring role on TV show

A FITNESS fanatic is making a name for himself on national television after he was picked to present a new workout channel.

David Hogg (30), from Rushton Grove, Harlow, will host a show on Sky's Fitness TV, giving viewers a chance to join in a chair aerobics class.

The exercises are designed for the less able and are said to be especially good for people suffering from arthritis and high blood pressure.

Mr Hogg, who has his own company Hogg's Fitness and First Aid, said: "I am excited because health and fitness is my passion and it great to be given this opportunity to get chair aerobics out to a larger audience.

"I have had great feedback for it so far. My clients have watched it and said it looks very professional and clear to follow."

Mr Hogg began his career as a gym instructor 11 years ago to step up the fight against obesity. He later branched into exercises aimed at the older generation.

After creating a DVD featuring chair-based exercise for Epping Forest District Council and Age Concern East, he caught the eye of television producers at Sky and was asked to audition for the role.

Fitness TV founder Luan Underwood, herself a former personal trainer, added: "We know that many people would love to exercise more but find it hard to fit in a run or a visit to the gym into their schedules. We really do have something for everyone, so there's no excuse for not getting fit."

Fitness TV is on Sky channel 282. For more information visit their website www.fitness.tv.

Shop thief carried wirecutters to remove store security tags

A PROPERTY developer who suffered depression following a series of accidents and contracting swine flu has been jailed for shoplifting.

Lee Thackray (34), of Ladyshot, Harlow, stole a pair of sunglasses, shoes and a toy helicopter from a store in Chelmsford but was spotted by a CCTV operator, Chelmsford Crown Court was told.

Richard Stevens, prosecuting, said Thackray went to the shop equipped with a pair of wirecutters which he used to remove the security tags.

He queued at a checkout for a while but then left without paying. He later told police he took the items to make some money.

Kerry Walker, appearing for Thackray, said in mitigation he was unable to work after a motorbike accident in India and a horse riding accident. He had also contracted swine flu.

She told the court on Thursday that at the time of the theft he was depressed and walking on crutches.

The court heard that Thackray, who had pleaded guilty to a charge of theft, was also in breach of a suspended sentence imposed in January this year for stealing groceries from a Tesco store in Braintree.

Judge Christopher Ball jailed him for two months for the offence and a further three months for the earlier incident.

He told Thackray that court orders had to be obeyed and that his latest theft was "deliberate and calculated".

Travellers sent packing from Common camp

COUNCIL and police officers moved quickly after an illegal encampment pitched up on Latton Common.

A group of 15 vehicles arrived at the site last Wednesday night but were immediately served notices ordering them to leave by the next day.

Officers made regular visits overnight to monitor the site and communicate with the travellers who finally moved on the following evening.

Tony Hall, chairman of Harlow Council's environment and community committee, said: "We have a zero tolerance approach to illegal encampments on public land."

"Illegal encampments which stay on land for long periods often cause damage and the clear up cost to taxpayers can be in the thousands."

"Close co-operation between the police and council officers meant we could move the travellers on in 24 hours."

He said the response sent out a clear message that the council would not tolerate illegal encampments in Harlow and would act swiftly when possible to move them on.

A MEAN thief posing as a window cleaner stole a pensioner's purse when he called at her home pretending to collect money from customers.

The victim, who is in her 80s, allowed the man into her home. But while she was in the kitchen he took the purse from her handbag.

Police are now appealing for witnesses following the incident which happened in Pittmans Field, Harlow, last Wednesday morning.

PC Brian Eagling, said: "There was a lot of road works going on at the time so I am hoping someone may have seen this man in the area."

"I would also like to remind residents to always check people's ID thoroughly and close the door on them whilst you call their company to check."

"If you are in any doubt, don't open the door and contact police immediately."

The suspect is described as a white, aged 18-20, 1.68m (5ft 6ins) tall, of slim build with short mousy blonde straight hair which looked as though it might have been highlighted. He was wearing a bluish grey or green T-shirt, possibly with a yellow stripe.

Anyone with any information should call Harlow Police on 0300 333 4444 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Breast unit reduces screening wait

A BREAST screening service for women in Harlow and the surrounding area is smashing targets for patient waiting times a year ahead of schedule.

Women referred to the Epping Breast Unit at St Margaret's Hospital are being seen within two weeks – the NHS target for 2010.

As a result of the swift referrals, many more cases are being diagnosed.

Rob Duncombe, chief pharmacist and associate director for cancer for the PAH NHS Trust which runs St Margaret's, said: "This is great news for our patients as their GPs can be confident of ensuring they are being seen by our specialist breast care team within a few days."

"This means less worry for the patients having to wait to be seen and faster and more effective diagnosis."

He added: "The trust is now looking at its long-term plans for developing cancer services to meet the needs of local people in west Essex and will be making a major investment into the service in the coming years."

Funding boost for businesses

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoon@hertsessexnews.co.uk

BUSINESSES in Harlow are to benefit from a cash injection to help them stay afloat during the recession.

Harlow Council has been given £45,000 to support the long-term economic stability of the town.

The money comes from the Government's Local Authority Business Growth Incentive scheme.

Simon Carter, chairman of the council's policy and resources committee, said: "We welcome this extra funding, especially after we received one of the lowest LABGI grants in Essex earlier this year."

"In the current economic situation, councils face many financial pressures so we need to consider how best to use any extra money we receive."

He said the council was already providing help to businesses by offering information and advice on where they can seek help, and was working with Business Link to give direct support to survive the economic downturn.

"We are also supporting the development of new business with our involvement in the Harlow Enterprise Hub," he added.

Harlow MP Bill Rammell said it was important the council spent the cash wisely, adding: "I am pleased that Harlow continues to benefit from this grant which encourages local business growth in the area which is something we all want to see."

"This additional grant for local authorities on top of their annual financial settlement encourages local authorities to build partnerships with local business and promote long-term economic sustainability in their areas."

"I want to see Harlow Council spending this additional money on the help and services people really need at this time."

Couple's diamond day

A HAPPY couple have proved diamonds certainly are forever as they prepare to celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary.

Stan and Gwen Murphy (both 80) were married on August 20, 1949 after months of writing to each other.

During the Second World War, Stan served in the Army while Gwen worked as a Land Girl. They spent some years living on an Army base in Germany before moving to Spencers Croft, Harlow, in 1957 where they still live to this day. They have four sons, 12 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Look back over married life, Mrs Murphy said: "You just really have to be friends for it to work" while Mr Murphy added: "As long as the old man keeps quiet and lets her do what she wants then it works!"

The couple will celebrate their milestone with a party next week. (photo: HAR0583524)

Knife-wielding attacker nearly sliced off his victim's fingers

A KNIFE-wielding attacker who almost sliced off another man's fingers has been jailed for four years.

Zac Atwell (22), of Brays Mead, Harlow, admitted wounding Samuel Boon in the incident on January 15.

Richard Stevens, prosecuting at Chelmsford Crown Court, said the victim was walking through Harlow's town centre bus station at about 11pm when Atwell called over to him: "Do you think your mates can beat me up?"

Mr Stevens said: "Mr Boon replied no and there was some playfighting.

The defendant with clenched fists punched towards Mr Boon and vice versa.

"Mr Boon then kicked out and Atwell produced a knife with a serrated edge and lunged towards the victim's head. Mr Boon put up his hand before another lunge towards his neck and stomach area prompted him to grab the blade."

During a struggle the knife was pulled forwards and backwards. Atwell then fled, leaving Mr Boon with wounds to his ear and hand, including a one-inch cut to his little finger and a three-quarters of an inch cut to another.

Passing sentence on Friday, Judge Christopher Ball told Atwell: "This is another example of serious violence on the streets."

"The disturbance arose with another man who suffered terrible injuries to his hands. His fingers were almost sliced off as he tried to defend himself. You are a serious risk to the public."

As well as being sent to prison, Atwell was also made subject to an extended licence period of one year.

Down Memory Lane on board the Pick Me Up

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoon@hertsessexnews.co.uk

WE often have cause to revisit past Nostalgia items but one correspondent has surpassed all our expectations by sharing his memories after reading two recent articles.

Lewis Puddle was a dispatcher for the Pick-Me-Up bus service and worked in the control room in the town centre in the 1970s. Just to recap for those who missed our article two weeks ago, the town was one of only a handful which signed up to the service offering residents a chance to be picked up from their homes and taken anywhere within a three-mile radius. "I was one of the dispatchers in the control office which was outside Barclay's Bank," writes Mr Puddle, pictured above with colleagues. "The whole thing was only ever intended to be a two-year experiment and, although it was a resounding success, at the end of the two years the service ended."

"It was a joint venture between the London Country Bus Services, Harlow Council, the Road Research Laboratories and Ford Motor Company which provided the vehicles.

"The service only covered Old Harlow and consisted of three vehicles which departed at roughly 20-minute intervals. The adult fare when the service began was 30 pence – not 10 pence as stated in the article – and this increased to 50 pence after the first year.

"We were on first name terms with most of the regulars and if any of them are still in the area they will remember me as the guy who answered the phone by saying 'Underground airways, how can I help?'"

Mr Puddle also remembers Mrs Wright's Dairy which operated out of Potter Street in the 1950s.

"Wright's Dairy was on the plot where Wright's Court now is in Potter Street. Behind the dairy was a riding school run by Mr Wright, who was known as the Sheriff of Potter Street.

"He used to perform all kinds of riding stunts at the annual Essex Police Show which was held in the 1950s at Wintry Park near Epping."

Thank you for your letter, Mr Puddle. If any other readers have memories they would like to share, either on subjects we have already featured or ones we have yet to cover, then please write to 6 West Gate, Harlow CM20 1JW or send an email to sassoon@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

Do you remember Maunds?

READER Daniella Pelka has written in to ask for the help of Star readers in finding out information about the Maunds Farm house which used to be on Commside Road.

"It was a 19th century white stucco house and was demolished between 1975 and 1986," she writes. "Any photographs or memories would be greatly appreciated."

If you can help Ms Pelka then please let Nostalgia know in the usual fashion.

Bus puss has no need for a bus pass

BUS passengers in Plymouth have to make sure there's always a seat free for a special traveller who hitches a ride on the same service every day!

Casper the Cat has boarded the 10.55 service for the past four years and even has his favourite seat.

The 12-year-old enjoys the ride but is always back home safely after an hour just in time for his lunch.

During the 11-mile round trip the commuting kitty takes in the sights as he passes an historic dockyard and naval base as well as the city centre.

The bus puss is said to have travelled an impressive 20,000 miles since he first jumped on the bus. And in all that time he has never bought a ticket!

There is even a note in the drivers' office asking them to make sure they look after their special customer and ensure he gets off at the right stop.

First UK Bus manager and driver Karen Baxter said: "He just gets on and off as he wants to."

"If the drivers notice that he's there they make sure that he doesn't get off at some random stop. The cat seems to know where to get back off and then he trots off home."

Casper's owner, Susan Finden, thinks he got bitten by the travelling bug after watching her board the bus.

Cast get to grips with finer points of sword skills

YOUNG cast members enjoyed an exhilarating masterclass in stage swordplay as rehearsals for Phoenix Theatre Company's spectacular adaptation of Peter Pan: The Musical stepped up a gear.

Experienced stage combat choreographer Keith Wallis took time out from the set of the new Ridley Scott production of Robin Hood to transform the local youngsters into swashbuckling pirates and high-kicking Indians at an exhausting fight rehearsal.

Once Keith had put the cast through their paces, he set about staging the climactic swordfight between Peter Pan, played by Abigail Simpson, and his evil nemesis Captain Hook, played by veteran of The Playhouse stage Lee Pace.

Show producer and director Phil Dale said: "The gruelling fight rehearsal is a perfect example of how committed the cast are to making this the biggest and best community theatre production The Playhouse has seen since Bugsy Malone in 2007.

"The fight between the Pirates and the Indians kicks off near the end of the show. By bringing Keith on board we wanted to ensure the audience got value for money and a fight scene never to be forgotten." Peter Pan comes from the same team responsible for the hugely popular Playhouse pantomimes Robin Hood and Dick Whittington, as well as the smash hit production of Oliver!

The show begins a 10-performance run on Saturday, September 19, with the last show taking place on September 9. Ticket prices start at £10 and can be purchased from the box office on (01279) 431945 or via www.playhouseharlow.com.

Town plays a key role in artist's game plan

By CHRIS MOSS
mosc@hertsessexnews.co.uk

AN innovative new art project will transform two of Harlow's oldest neighbourhoods into interactive game boards.

Play Harlow! is the brainchild of artist Matt Cook (29) and will see pre-registered teams competing against each other to complete tasks and activities peppered along pre-designated routes through The Stow and Staple Tyne.

Matt, pictured right, will take the role of game show host, wheeling his portable Game Table – a kinetic sculpture and bike trailer representing a map of Harlow used to illustrate the live game – from neighbourhood to neighbourhood and inviting passers-by to get involved.

The table itself will form the centrepiece of a larger sculptural map of the town, illustrating some of the artist's experiences of Harlow through the use of objects, sounds, photographs and moving electronic parts.

Funded by Essex County Council's Genius Loci scheme, the first two-day game will begin at The Stow on Friday, August 21, with the second starting at Staple Tyne play area the following Friday.

"The main idea behind the project is to try to get people to look at their town in a different way, to notice things they may not have realised were even there before," Matt told the Star. "I had never even been to Harlow before I began the project and I found it really fascinating. There's such a huge variety of landscapes and terrain and so many different ways of navigating and exploring the town."

"The walks, tasks and activities teams will be invited to complete will allow them to see the parts of the town I've re-imagined to feature on the game board. Hopefully they will begin to look at their neighbourhoods in a different way."

Matt will also be bringing his artwork to the Harlow Town Show on September 6 where he hopes to launch a printed version of the game.

To find out more about the project and to register your team of between two and five players, log on to www.playharlow.com.

Back to school with the kids who want to rock

new this week

BANDSLAM
certificate PG 1h51m

EVERY year thousands of hopefuls risk public ridicule to chase fame and fortune by singing their hearts out on X-Factor and Britain's Got Talent. The big screen has a long tradition of these wish-fulfilment fairy tales about young men and women chasing their one moment in the spotlight, fuelled most recently by High School Musical and its spin-offs. With Zac Efron hanging up his dancing shoes, Bandslam hopes to woo the same pre-teen crowd by charting the fortunes of a group of high-school misfits who strum, sing and drum for glory in their local battle of the bands. Efron's on-screen and real-life sweetheart Vanessa Hudgens is cast in a key role, which includes a full vocal workout in the grandstand finale.

Music fan Will Burton (Gaelan Connell) is picked on at school so when he learns that his mother Karen (Lisa Kudrow) has landed a job in New Jersey, he is delighted to start again in a different state. As the new boy at Martin Van Buren High School, Will reinvents himself as a cool loner, concocting colourful stories about his errant father, who famously plays backing for A-list rock stars.

When Will learns about a high-profile battle of the bands, he thrills to the prospect of winning the trophy, only to discover that high-school hunk Ben Wheately (Scott Porter) is all but guaranteed the title with his band Glory Dogs.

Unperturbed, Will joins forces with Ben's songwriter ex-girlfriend Charlotte (Aly Michalka), singer Sa5m (Vanessa Hudgens) and a number of other misfits to write and perform an original song – and prove that anything is possible.

Bandslam rocks and rolls to a familiar song sheet but director and co-writer Todd Graff's film fizzles with infectious energy, matched by a charm and some droll dialogue that should easily win over older audiences too.

Connell is an endearingly vulnerable yet spirited hero, instantly winning our sympathy as he struggles to fit in by allowing one little white lie to take root and conceal his unhappy past.

Hudgens and Michalka excel at the mic whileand Kudrow essays another steely single mother who fearfully asks her son how his first day was and is told in no uncertain terms: "Lunch today was like a Nuremberg rally produced by MTV" Thankfully, the rest of Graff's film is more upbeat.

SCREENWRITER Bruce Joel Rubin (Ghost) seems like the perfect fit for director Robert Schwentke's eagerly anticipated big-screen adaptation of the bestseller by Audrey Niffenegger which had readers around the world reaching for their handkerchiefs. Librarian Henry (Eric Bana) suffers from a rare genetic disorder which causes him to travel through time without warning. He has no control over when he will leap or how long he will spend in the current time-frame, living from one second to the next. He meets and falls in love with Clare (Rachel McAdams), who feels certain that they are destined to spend the rest of their lives together even though Henry can disappear in the blink of an eye, reappearing months if not years later.

Strong first half-year results indicate positive year ahead for buyers and sellers

Local estate agent, haart in Harlow, has seen the signs of a major recovery in the UK property market after national sales shot up a staggering 44% from January to June 2009, compared to the same period in 2008.

Figures released today from haart, part of the UK's largest independent estate agency group, also showed a 32% increase in the number of people looking for properties, with the average house price down 14% on June 2008 prices at £161,158 across the country.

Senior Branch Manager, Shawn Meakins, puts the increase in activity down to a number of factors, but says it is largely because of haart's focus on ensuring properties are marketed at the right price.

"Other agents are still pricing properties too highly and, as a result, are not getting the same levels of sales. We keep reinforcing to sellers they must be realistic in the current market. The good news is that prices now appear to have bottomed out and are increasing in many areas. These low prices, combined with people now being able to get hold of mortgages more easily, have contributed to this surge of activity. This is a good sign for everyone, but particularly for first-time buyers who have been negotiating the poor market conditions for months, trying to get a foot on the first rung of the ladder."

Despite recent reports by the National Housing Federation, which indicated that the housing market will not recover until 2011, many haart branches have had their busiest months for nearly two years as the number of properties being listed and sold reached a new high.

Paul Smith, Chief Executive of haart said: "Confidence is beginning to return to the property market and our first half-year figures demonstrate considerable growth. July was a particularly strong month with branch sales up 133% compared with 2008, and exchanges up by 83%."

The bounce back of the market has also resulted in an increase in the number of properties being exchanged by 14%. Last week, haart had the highest number of exchanges in seven days since 2007.

Right now we have opportunities at a number of locations including Bishops Stortford, Ugly and Spellbrook. Whether you're career-focused or fitting a job around other responsibilities in your life, we have something to offer.

Supported Living Worker (Full-time) Inglis, Spellbrook

Music workshops, gardening, cinema trips... you'll be helping adults with learning disabilities to take part in all sorts of activities - as well as supporting them in everyday tasks such as cooking, cleaning and paying bills. It's a fascinating, genuinely satisfying job and very different to the usual nine to five.

While experience of this kind of work is an advantage, we think qualities count for just as much. The people we support have a wide variety of needs, so we provide full training. That means the only things you'll need to start here are a passion for helping people to make the most out of their lives and a can-do approach. Bring those and you can look forward to a truly rewarding job that offers excellent prospects.

Senior Support Worker (Full-time) Bishop's Stortford

You will be working in an established and thriving residential home for people with learning disabilities located in the heart of Bishop's Stortford. This busy service supports people who lead significantly independent lives and who make a real contribution to their local community through their paid and voluntary work, and involvement with local sports, and other clubs, and adult education colleges. It will be down to you to spend time with people in a positive way and to engage in their interests. You will support people to broaden and sustain their range of relationships. If you enjoy the challenge of enabling people to develop their existing skills, so that they can grow their participation in all aspects of home, work and social life, then we would like to hear from you. Key to your success will be the ability to work alongside the team manager to develop the service in line with the personalisation of social care principles.

To join us you will need an NVQ Level 2 or above in Care and have considerable experience of working with people with learning disabilities in social or health care. As a shift leader you will be required to work collaboratively with the team manager on an agreed agenda and without direct supervision for extended periods, and be able to act decisively. You will be organised and self-motivated and able to organise and direct others. The role demands a supportive approach to colleagues and the ability to act as job coach/mentor to staff that are new to the social care sector. Experience of dealing sensitively with families and liaising successfully with other professionals is essential.

To discuss this post please call Jane Green on 07920 297867.

Alongside all this you'll have the ability to work well under pressure and possess the sensitivity required when working with confidential documents. This important behind the scenes work will help support our goal of giving adults with learning disabilities greater independence.

Hft offers 20 days' holiday rising to 25 days' after the first year, plus 8 customary days, pension scheme and training and development.

To request an application pack, call the Administration Team on 01279 816165, between 9am and 5pm or apply online at www.hft.org.uk

A KARATE club has held its first ever grading session – and all the students came through successfully. Old Harlow's Reikan Karate presented new red belts on Sunday after the players came through their examination.

A club spokesperson said: "The instructors would like to publicly congratulate everyone on their success."

Reikan was founded by Sensei Tony Perry and Sensei Paul Keates in May.

It is based at the

Bronze for Billy at UK Champs

ATHLETE Billy Falconer clinched a bronze medal at the UK AAA Championships.

Meanwhile, another Harlow-based athlete – 16-year-old Tom Richards – claimed fourth in his javelin event at the same competition.

In the high jump, Passmores School student Billy, who was competing in the U-15 event although he is now 16, returned after a two-week injury lay-off. He performed brilliantly to take the bronze medal with a leap of 1.91m.

He was behind winner Jonathan Heath (Derby), who leapt 1.99m and Kyle Henderson (1.95m).

Billy will be aiming to get a gold medal in the UK School Games in Cardiff on September 5.

Tom, competing in the U-17 category, improved his personal best by 3m in the javelin with a throw of 54.78m to come fourth.

This now puts Tom in the UK top 20 for this event.

Tom is currently being coached by Dave Sketchley.

Both athletes were representing Woodford Green AC.

In the Jo Smith Cup at Hendon, 18-year-old Kathrine Foy, representing Woodford Green AC ran a PB of 2 mins 12.7 secs in the 800m where she came fifth.

Less than 24 hours later Epping-based Kathrine was back in action as she helped Essex to their third consecutive win in a Senior Inter Counties match at Chelmsford.

Running the 800m B string Kathrine strode to victory in 2mins 19secs.

Kirsty McIntosh (21), who was also representing Essex, came third in the A string pole vault (3.27m).

Nine personal bests (PBs) were achieved by Harlow-based athletes in recent competitions.

Sisters Phoebe and Sophie Fuhr, both Burnt Mill School students, set three personal bests between them.

Phoebe (9) won the U-11s 600m in 2:15.8, while Essex 300m runner Sophie (15) was first in the 100m (13.32s) and second in the 200m (27.33s) both in the U-17 category.

Another family affair came in the mixed 3,000m where dad Andy Freeman (veteran 45) clocked 12:23 to finish 11th. His daughter Lauren (15) clocked a PB of 12:46 for 14th.

The fast improving Tyler Bown (14) claimed a PB of 12.32s to win the 100m in the U-15 boys age group and was then third in the 200m (24.73s).

Tom Larkin (16) ran a PB of 11.67s to come second in the U-17s 100m and Ebony Clark (15) ran a PB of 28.07s in the 200m, giving her third in the U-17s. Sam Benge (15) was second in the U-17s 800m with a PB of 2:12.6 and Dan Yaxley (16) won his 3,000m race in 9:54.

HAPPY DAYS: Harlow Truck Centre managing director Lee Paul, holding his framed shirt, with the Harlow RFC minis section

Minis' kit deal

HARLOW Truck Centre has agreed to sponsor the Harlow mini/midi rugby section which provides rugby for boys and girls aged between 6 and 11. The immediate effect of this support was to enable the club to purchase full sets of shirts for the teams from under 7s through to under 12s.

Mr Paul recently came down to the Ram Gorse club to watch the youngsters in a training session as they gear up for the season which starts in September. The club presented him with a framed shirt to display at the company office and also a Harlow shirt for his son Jamie. Harlow minis train on Sundays at the Elizabeth Way club, starting at 10.30am.

Mini rugby chairman Sean Wilkinson said: "The summer is a good time for youngsters to start mini rugby. It gives them a chance to join in the friendly training sessions and to learn about the game before matches start in the autumn."

Player shortage club axe threat

THE manager of a Harlow-based girls football team fears the side could fold unless more players are recruited for the forthcoming season.

Mark Hall Youth FC U-16 Girls boss Glenn Trower admits the side could be forced to throw in the towel on their Essex County Girls Football League campaign unless several new players are signed up.

"If we don't sign some new players before the end of August, we will be in danger of having to withdraw from the Essex County Girls Football League. The core of the team has been together for four seasons and wishes to continue.

"It is the only girls team that represents Harlow at youth level playing in a competitive

CONCERN: Mark Hall U-16 Girls could fold unless new players are found from Harlow that play in a league."

The popularity of the sport appears broader at younger age groups. "The club is seriously looking at forming other teams at different age groups," said Trower.

The U-16s have not yet won any major silverware, but got to the quarter-final of the Essex U-15 Cup last season and got the runners-up shield in May in the Munich 72 Trophies Cup final at Avelsey FC, played under floodlights.

"This was a mini tournament for the less successful teams, where we narrowly lost 2-1, however the teams were 9-a-side on a full size pitch, but we had no substitutes," explained Trower. If you would like to join, contact Trower on (01992) 576885 or on the mobile 07867 828065.

A WEAK Harlow side made up mainly of trial players went down to a 3-1 friendly defeat at home to Ryman premier division Boreham Wood who scored two late goals.

The only players who featured and who are likely to be part of the first team squad for the Hawks' Ryman division one north campaign next season were strikers Daryl Doonan and Lorenz Ferrari, centre-half Wesley immediately as Doonan nodded home when he met a cross.

On 77 minutes, Moore struck the bar with a long-range shot.

Beckles also went close for the hosts.

Boreham Wood grabbed a second on 86 minutes when Tyler Ford struck.

Harlow thought they had grabbed an equaliser when Beckles' effort bounced off the bar and appeared to cross the line.

This was not seen by the referee and his assistants.

Boreham Wood broke while the Harlow players 'celebrated' and netted a third through Ford.

Hawks boss Anthony Anstead said: "I played a lot of trialists and youngsters. It was an excellent mark to see who was good enough. It just confirmed who I did not want in the squad."

Osagie called up for UK Challenge

This recognition emphasises how well Osagie has progressed this season after two years of injury frustration.

He will also line up against the best 800m runners from all over the world when he competes in the British Grand Prix meeting at Gateshead on Monday August 31.

Osagie cemented his place in the UK top 10 when he ran 1:47.86 at the Copenhagen Athletic Games in Denmark last weekend.

Osagie, of Northbrooks, was competing against a world class field of Olympians and national champions.

He finished in fourth place.

"I was kind of annoyed that I did not run a bit quicker," confessed Osagie, who is currently studying a degree at St Mary's University in West London. "My times are still coming down but my target is 1:46. I have a couple of races left this season."

Undoubtedly the highlight for Osagie was an appearance for the Great Britain team at the European U-23 Championships in Lithuania in July. He finished a very creditable third in this race.

Having encountered numerous foot and knee injuries since 2007, just to complete a full indoor and outdoor season can give the former Leventhorpe School student tremendous encouragement as he prepares for 2010.

"I have had a few scares and niggles but I have just kept an eye on it. It has been a very successful season. I just need to keep a lid on the injuries. Hopefully they are behind me now."

"The consistency has been good and I have completed an indoor and outdoor season. I also competed for Harlow Athletic Club the other weekend. That was really good fun," he added.

Waite over for cancer keeper

A throw from the left was gathered by Ola Akinnawo – on loan from neighbours Bishop's Stortford – and he slipped between two defenders before firing home from just inside the box.

The game's highlight came on 39 minutes when Harlow doubled their advantage through a well-worked goal which was finished from the edge of the box by Lorenz Ferrari.

"It came from 10 one touch passes, it was the sort of goal it takes months to practice," enthused Anstead.

Julian Edwards made it 3-0 with a shot that was bent round the Bedford keeper on 52 minutes before the Eagles reduced the deficit with a controversial 62nd-minute penalty scored by Tony Battersby.

This was awarded after Hawks defender Michael Moore was adjudged to have fouled Bedford's Lewis McBride.

"It was a clean tackle. It was a ridiculous decision but you have to ride with it," said Anstead.

Harlow's final goal came on 80 minutes when substitute James Edgerley fired home a rebound after another of Anstead's new signings, striker Tobi Ositola, saw a shot blocked by the visitors' keeper.

Ositola was at Essex Senior League Takeley last season.

HARLOW TN: Waite, Read, Thomas, Clarey, Clemo, Akinnawo, Mason, Malimabue, Ferrari, Edwards, Manangue. Subs used: Edgerley, Dobson, Osei, Doolan.

Comeback king can ring the Bell

Welcome to Inside Track, our column that gives you the reader an insight into Harlow Greyhound Stadium as our top tipster reveals his favourites for tomorrow (Friday August 14).

HARLOW'S champion stayer BELL TORNADO makes his comeback from injury this Friday night and all eyes will be on him to see if he has retained his ability.

The injury he suffered was only a minor one and judging by his trials, he looks ready to race. The race in which he competes is a high-class affair but from a perfect trap draw he can resume winning ways.

Local trainer Chris Mosdall has his team in fine fettle at present and looks to have a few chances to continue his good run of form.

His newcomer SWIFT GOOGLE has shown plenty of promise since arriving and looks well worth a bet.

This greyhound is still in her puppy stage but that shouldn't hinder her and she can take the first race in comfort.

Selections for Friday August 14:

7.30pm Swift Google; 7.45pm Knockane Josie; 8pm Glenagowar Champ; 8.15pm Koala Barns; 8.30pm Vicar Of Wisbech; 8.45pm Ronnies Flyer; 9pm Ardmayle Beauty; 9.15pm Millroad Magic; 9.30pm Harlow Bugatti; 9.45pm Steady Major; 10pm Bell Tornado; 10.15pm Ruff By Name.

Tennant fightback seals win for club

JOHN Tennant produced a thrilling comeback as Harlow Squash Club's first team snatched victory from the jaws of defeat against close rivals Allenbournes.

The Herts Squash League division three match was delicately poised heading into the final game.

Tennant, the second string, was losing the final game before fighting back as Harlow beat the Ware-based club 2-1.

Tennant got off to the worst possible start, losing the first two sets 11-15, 13-15. However, Tennant won the last three sets 15-12, 15-12, 15-9 to seal the victory for Harlow.

Earlier, third string Andy Davis was first on court and lost 15-11, 11-15, 15-6, 12-15, 11-15. First string Ian Gould won the first two sets 15-3, 15-13. His opponent then fought back to win the next two sets 15-8, 15-13 to level the score before Gould recovered his composure to triumph in the final set 15-7.

Tennant's heroics then sealed maximum points. Harlow's second team lost 3-0 at Harpenden in division four.

First string Vinh Tram went down 13-15, 15-13, 12-15, 15-13, 9-15.

Second string Richard Lewis lost his match 3-2 and third string Rob Coghlan was beaten 13-15, 8-15, 15-8, 13-15.

Teen's century bow

FOURTEEN-year-old Andre Riddell was celebrating after making his first century for Harlow.

Riddell made 109 not out as Harlow (217-4) overcame Burnt Mill & Nettewells (94) at home by 126 runs in a friendly on Sunday.

Lee Jessey, Harlow Cricket Club's Sunday skipper, said: "He has a good eye and played very well. He played decent shots and played good straight shots through the V [the area between mid on and mid off]."

In the Shepherd Neame Essex League 2nd XI division one championship, Harlow II (250-7; Simon Baulcomb 107, Niles Modhwadia 71) lost Wickford (251-3) by seven wickets.

Other results:- 3rd XI division one, Harlow III (87-2) bt Westcliff (84; Dave Whellams 5-11) by eight wickets; 4th XI div three, Harlow IV (142; Charlie Pitts 50) bt Harold Wood V (60; Dave Cooney 4-10) by 82 runs.

The pair added 122, before

Title joy for Town after slim victory

BATTLING Thorley certainly made Harlow Town fight all the way for the victory which assured them promotion and the division two title.

The win was not certain until the final balls of the match after Town produced a poor batting display to set their opponents just 121 to win.

On a pitch which offered help to the bowlers, both sides struggled to score freely.

Town made a decent start with the bat as Jason Gladwin (20) and Pat Yates (26) put on 40 runs for the opening wicket.

But they were dismissed in quick succession and Town struggled to build partnerships from there on, with only Ram Upadhyay (33) making any telling contribution.

Adam Sydes for Thorley did most of the damage with 7 wickets for 23 runs.

Thorley looked favourites throughout the run chase but scored slowly due to disciplined Town bowling.

Coleman grabbed four wickets and then hit 54 runs with crept up, the visitors lost wickets and as the pressure increased Dan Calver, Shane Hooper and Ashley Alderson all claimed two wickets each.

With 15 required off the last over Thorley could only muster five runs to leave Town victorious.

In division three, Potter Street (122) beat Roding Valley (89) by 33 runs.

Charlie Coleman produced a fine all-round display as Harlow Town II crushed Hatfield Heath (77) by 10 wickets in division four.

Coleman grabbed four wickets and then hit 54 runs with Town only needing 78 for victory.

The win leaves them top and needing one more win for promotion.

Harlow Town III look favourites to win division seven after a three-wicket win at Three Caps.

Town bowed their rivals for promotion out for just 85 with Kevin Tilliard claiming five wickets.

The Harlow side struggled to chase down the small total but an unbeaten partnership of 28 between Paul Morrell (12 no) and Steve Murtagh (15 no) steered them home (86-7).

Bowen stars for Rockets

LUKE Bowen shone as Rye House Rockets picked up a 46-43 victory over King's Lynn in speedway's Premier League.

The Harlow racer's 10-point haul helped the team edge past the Norfolk side.

The win extended the Hoddesdon club's unbeaten record.

The tide began to turn in Heat 7 as Bowen and Tommy Allen surged to a 5-1 over Kozza Smith, and Heat 8 produced an identical score through Joe Haines, returning from a serious ankle injury. Bowen and Robert Mear escaped with a 3-3 after following home Darcy Ward in a re-run of another race.

The Rockets needed a drawn result from the nominated race to claim all three match points, but those hopes disappeared when first Bowen fell and then Linus Sundstrom was unable to prevent Ward and Stars captain Tomas Topinka maxing out in a second re-run.

However, a match point was the least the Stars deserved for their part in a dramatic fixture, and it maintains their surge toward a likely league championship. Bowen was carrying a knock in the Premier League 43-46 defeat to Birmingham in the Premier League, the second part of Saturday's double header.

He only picked up three points from his four rides at this meeting.

Rampant Robins

SAWBRIDGEWORTH Town FC kicked off their Essex Senior Football League season with a thumping 4-0 victory at Clapton on Saturday.

Sawbo went ahead after a minute through debutant James Whitbread's header. On 37 minutes, another debutant Stuart Zanone fired in. Ashley Conlan fired in on 57 minutes and Sawbo's fourth goal came on 70 minutes through Conlan.

Champions eye league switch

HARLOW Town first team skipper Vic Goddard admitted his club could look into quitting the Herts & Essex Cricket League after his winning machine wrapped up promotion and the title with three games to spare following victory over Thorley on Saturday.

Such has been Town's dominance of this division that Goddard, has only batted THREE times in the whole season after dropping himself down the order.

The blend of experience and youth – 50 per cent of the side are youngsters – has been key.

Completing a memorable weekend for the club, the second and third teams also won to move a step closer to promotion in their respective divisions.

Goddard said the club could look into switching to a stronger cricket league in the summer, although he believes division one will be much tougher.

"Next year the league will be a completely different kettle of fish. There are some good sides in it," said Goddard.

The captain said the club was determined to continue its policy of giving youngsters from Harlow the chance to play cricket and said it would not be recruiting overseas players for that reason.

"Our youngsters are now established first team players. The youth set-up at the club is fantastic. We don't want overseas players. We are a local team and we want local people," he said.

The return of experienced batsman Jason Gladwin has also been a crucial ingredient in Town's success. "It's been good to have him back. The batting has been really strong this season," added Goddard.

"We are much stronger this year, but I have been surprised at the [lack of] consistency in the league."

Goddard's men have steam-rollered their way to promotion. The only match they failed to win was a rain-affected draw 12 days ago against High Roding II.

"The target was promotion so to win the title was a bonus. It's been a really good year," Goddard added.

JAMES Butler's side remain in the promotion hunt after beating Horndon-on-the-Hill at home but Harlow will need other results to go their way if they are to achieve promotion.

Harlow are still third on 183 points, behind leaders Hadleigh & Thundersley (216) and Shenfield (208). There are only four matches left.

Harlow skipper Butler said: "We have got to keep going and hope the top two slip up."

On Saturday, Harlow lost the toss and had to bat on a wet wicket.

Rehman Ahmed and Maruf Chowdhury added 38 for the first wicket before the latter was dismissed for 20.

Ahmed (12), Lee Jessey (1) and Mark Green (1) departed swiftly, leaving Harlow on 49-4.

Then Nick Butler and Jason McNally weathered a fierce spell of short bowling from Qasim Khurshid before scoring freely.

The pair added 122, before

Butler went on 52 and McNally followed for an excellent 81.

James Butler said: "They batted very responsibly. Both had to work hard to curb their natural aggression initially, before just playing their natural game and taking it away from Horndon."

Iain Nuttall then chipped in with a useful 24 not out, to help Harlow to a competitive score of 224-7 declared.

After Harlow's opening bowlers McNally and Luke Heskett failed to make an impact, the introduction of Chowdhury changed things in a destructive four-over spell.

After dismissing opener Danny Joyce LBW for 10, he bounced Canavon first ball and struck him on the jaw, forcing him to retire hurt. Chowdhury then took the important scalps of experienced duo Dave Stitson and Andrew Hilditch for ducks, before dismissing Philip Keeping (34).

However, the returning Canavon then blasted away at the spin attack of Nick Butler and Kalim Zada, forcing Harlow to reintroduce the pace attack of McNally and Chowdhury. Wickets fell quickly but Madder hit a quick 10 before Darren Green took a steeping catch off him to complete Harlow's win. Chowdhury took 5-40 and the Harlow skipper beamed: "Chowdhury was simply too sharp for the Horndon top order."

The Waite is over!

Courageous keeper battles back from cancer to play for Hawks

THAILAND international goalkeeper Jamie Waite, pictured left, has shown extraordinary courage in his successful fight against cancer and promises to be a valuable acquisition for Harlow Town FC this season.

The 23-year-old was found to have cancer of the lymph glands when he was with Coca-Cola League One side MK Dons in 2007 and underwent a 10-month chemotherapy programme before being given the all-clear.

His courage and resilience dwarfs anything related to playing football.

Waite will bring with him the experience of being attached to a series of top clubs including Bradford City, Doncaster Rovers and Stevenage Borough.

The son of a British father and Thai mother, Waite represented Thailand at full international level, becoming the second youngest international in the country's history at 15 years and 354 days old.

Waite was told he was six weeks from dying when he was first diagnosed with cancer. "It took me a year after going through treatment to get fit. I had to lose three or four stone. I had a few cancer cells in my abdomen.

"Just to be playing football again is great. It has put my life into perspective."

Waite made his debut for Harlow in the 4-1 friendly home win against Southern League side Bedford Town on Saturday and impressed new Hawks boss Anthony Anstead. Waite added: "The gaffer is really enthusiastic and I am pleased he is a keeper and is able to help me."

Anstead is delighted with his acquisition. "He did everything right, he is the complete player for this level. His kicking, shot stopping and command of the box were good," said Harlow's new manager. "He ticked all the boxes for me."

Harlow went ahead against Bedford after 15 minutes.

Avoiding relegation is target for new Hawks boss Anstead

ANTHONY Anstead's main aim for the Hawks this season is to ensure the cash-strapped club do not suffer a second successive relegation. Harlow Town, who were relegated from the Ryman League premier division last term, start their division one north programme this Saturday.

They host Great Wakering Rovers before playing Heybridge Swifts away on Tuesday.

Anstead was appointed manager 17 days ago after the resignation of Glen Alzapiedi. More than 12 players walked out following Alzapiedi's departure and Anstead has had to completely restructure the playing and coaching team at Barrows Farm.

"The main aim this season is to maintain Ryman League division one north status. As a sportsman you want to win every game but I know I will lose players to higher clubs," Anstead confessed.

"I have looked at 80 odd players and got a squad of 22. We have not done the four or five weeks pre-season of other clubs and myself and the other coaches will be concentrating hard on this over the next four weeks." He added: "I aim for us to play a passing game and we should do OK but we will have to adapt against sides who play more directly."

Encouraging pre-season results have included the 3-3 draw against a Southend United XI which included Scotland international Dougie Freedman and the subsequent 4-1 victory over Southern League club premier division side Bedford Town five days ago (see report above).

Anstead, ever the realist, is not carried away by these results.

"The reality is we have no points on the board. If we think it will be easy because of the Bedford result we have another think coming," he Hawks chief said.

"I am a bit worried we have had no away games. You can look good at home but it's what you are like away midweek on a difficult pitch that counts also."

He added: "I expect Great Wakering to be a physical team and Heybridge to be a good one. They have a good pitch and have played at a higher level."

Anstead signed eight players last week. His subsequent captures have included ex-Bishop's Stortford midfielder Jason Mason and former St Albans City midfielder James Edgerley.

Ex-Cheshunt and Boreham wood striker Julian Edwards is also on board, while forward Daryl Doolan will remain at the club.

Anstead's No.1 is likely to be Jamie Waite, who has played for Thailand, while defender Wesley Beckles has also signed.

The backroom staff include assistant boss Glyn Mason (former Cheshunt manager) and head coach Anthony Ferguson (former Cheshunt coach), while former Bishop's Stortford striker Mervyn Abraham will be assistant coach.

Osagie called up for UK Challenge

ANDREW Osagie, above, has been called up for the prestigious UK Athletics Challenge final in Wales this Saturday.

The 21-year-old Harlow athlete, who clocked under 1 minute 48 seconds in the 800m for the second time this season in Denmark at the weekend, is now in the top 20 of European Under-23 athletes for his distance.

Only the top eight in the UK in each track and field event get to compete in the UK Challenge event in Cardiff. With this in mind, it's a huge honour that the Harlow Athletic Club member has been chosen.

UK Athletics work out the fastest times and distances over the course of the season for each athlete before they send out the invitations to the cream of British talent.
